Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Food Bank of Alaska, Inc. (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the statement of financial position as of June 30, 2022 and 2021, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Food Bank of Alaska, Inc. as of June 30, 2022 and 2021, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS) and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards (Government Auditing Standards), issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of Food Bank of Alaska, Inc. and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.'s ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS and Government Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS and Government Auditing Standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.'s internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.'s ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control related matters that we identified during the audit.

Members of the Board of Directors
Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.

Supplementary Information

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. The “Supplementary Information” as presented in the Table of Contents which includes the accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal awards and related notes to schedule, as required by Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards general accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the supplementary information is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relations to the financial statements as a whole.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated November 15, 2022 on our consideration of the Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.’s internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.’s internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.’s internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

FOOD BANK OF ALASKA, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements

June 30, 2022 and 2021

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization

Food Bank of Alaska, Inc. (FBA) was incorporated in 1979 as a non-profit organization pursuant to Alaska statutes. Its mission is to eliminate hunger in Alaska by obtaining and providing food to partner agencies feeding hungry people and through anti-hunger leadership. Food Bank of Alaska, Inc. is a member of Feeding America, the nation's food bank network (formerly known as America's Second Harvest). Public support is comprised primarily of contributions of food from governmental agencies, local businesses and individuals and cash donations from United Way, local businesses and individuals. Revenue is derived from fees paid to FBA by its partner agencies, from the Alaska Native Tribal Health Consortium for the Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations, and State and Federal Grants.

Basis of Accounting

The financial statements of the Food Bank of Alaska, Inc. have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting and accordingly reflect all significant receivables, payables, and other liabilities.

Basis of Presentation

The financial statements are in accordance with FASB Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 958-205 and subsections. The Food Bank of Alaska, Inc. is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to two classes of net assets: net assets without donor restrictions, and net assets with donor restrictions. Net assets, revenues, gains, and losses are classified based on the existence or absence of donor or grantor imposed restrictions. Accordingly, net assets and changes therein are classified and reported as follows:

Net Assets Without Donor Restrictions – Net assets available for use in general operations and not subject to donor (or certain grantor) restrictions. The governing board has designated, from net assets without donor restrictions, net assets for an inventory reserves, property and equipment, and endowment.

Net Assets With Donor Restrictions – Net assets subject to donor- (or certain grantor-) imposed restrictions. Some donor-imposed restrictions are temporary in nature, such as those that will be met by the passage of time or other events specified by the donor. Other donor-imposed restrictions are perpetual in nature, where the donor stipulates that resources be maintained in perpetuity. Gifts of long-lived assets and gifts of cash restricted for the acquisition of long-lived assets are recognized as revenue when the assets are placed in service. Donor-imposed restrictions are released when a restriction expires, that is, when the stipulated time has elapsed, when the stipulated purpose for which the resource was restricted has been fulfilled, or both.

Income Taxes

FBA classifies all interest and penalties related to tax contingencies as income tax expense. As of June 30, 2022 and 2021 there are no accrued interest or penalties. As of June 30, 2022 and 2021 there were no uncertain tax positions or unrecognized tax benefits for which management believes it is reasonably possible that the total amounts of tax contingencies will significantly increase or decrease within 12 months of the reporting date. FBA files tax returns in the U.S. Federal Jurisdiction and the State of Alaska. As of 2022, the tax years that remain subject to examination begins with 2019.

Statement of Cash Flows

For the purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Food Bank of Alaska, Inc. considers all unrestricted highly liquid investments (i.e. those with maturity of 3 months or less) which are available for current use to be included in its definition of cash and cash equivalents.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable, which primarily relate to amounts due from the FBA's partner agencies for food handling fees, are stated at the amount expected to be collected. Delinquent accounts receivable are written off when deemed uncollectible. Since management has adjusted their accounts receivable to what is expected to be collected, management has deemed receivables to be fully collectable, and, therefore no allowance for doubtful accounts has been established.

Promises to Give

We initially record unconditional promises to give and subsequently carried at fair value using present value techniques incorporating risk-adjusted discount rates designed to reflect the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction in the principal, or most advantageous, market at the measurement date under current market conditions regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. Fair values are based on quoted market prices when available.

The following financial instruments are recorded at fair value or at amounts that approximate fair value: (1) cash and cash equivalents, (2) investments, (3) receivables, net, (4) accounts payable and (5) other current liabilities. The carrying amounts reported in the statements of financial position for the above financial instrument closely approximates their fair value due to the short-term nature of these assets and liabilities, except for the Food Bank of Alaska's investments. The carrying amounts of the Food Bank of Alaska's investments were determined based on quoted market prices.

Inventory

The inventory of food and related commodities is measured by applying a monetary rate to the quantity, in pounds, of foodstuffs (product) on hand. The monetary rate (which has been calculated by Feeding America) is designated to represent the average value of food and related commodities held in a typical food bank. For FY22, the rate for general product was $1.79 per pound; the rate for USDA commodities was $1.70 per pound. For FY21, the rate for general product was $1.74 per pound; the rate for USDA commodities was $1.49 per pound.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment is carried at cost, or, in the case of donated property, at the estimated fair market value on the date of donation. All property and equipment is capitalized if the acquisition cost or estimated fair market value is in excess of $5,000, the capitalization threshold.

Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets as described in the following table. The cost of maintenance and repairs is charged to expense when incurred.

Property, buildings and equipment of the Food Bank of Alaska's, is depreciated using the straight line method over the following estimated useful lives:

Description	Estimated Useful lives
Vehicles	3 to 7 years
Warehouse equipment	3 to 10 years
Freezers/refrigerators	3 to 20 years
Office equipment	3 to 7 years
Warehouse building	40 years

Revenue and Expense Recognition

The Organization recognizes contributions when cash, securities, inventory, or other assets; an unconditional promise to give; or a notification of a beneficial interest is received. Conditional promises to give – that is, those with a measurable performance or other barrier and right of return – are not recognized until the conditions on which they depend have been met.

At June 30, 2022 and 2021, respectively, the Organization recognized all such conditional contributions prior to year-end.

Donor-restricted contributions (including promises to give) are reported as increases in net assets with donor restrictions, depending on the nature of the restrictions. When the applicable restriction is satisfied or time passes, whichever the case may be, the net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions.

Handling fees, The Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP) and Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP) reimbursements, Summer Food Service Program (SFSP) and Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP) and contractual payments are recognized as revenue immediately once earned have a reasonable claim to said assets. Proceeds from fundraising efforts are recognized when the event occurs, including accruals for any amounts outstanding at year end. As of June 30, 2022 and 2021 the Organization had no deferred balances for contract liabilities for any such dues, fees or reimbursements.

Contributed food and related commodities are valued by measuring their weight and applying a monetary rate to the measured quantity. The valuation of the foodstuffs is recognized as revenue when received and as expense when distributed.

FOOD BANK OF ALASKA, INC.

A portion of the Organization's revenue is derived from cost-reimbursable federal and state controls and grants, which are conditioned upon certain performance requirements and/or the incurrence of allowable qualifying expenses. Amounts received are recognized as revenue when the Organization has incurred expenditures in compliance with specific contract or grant provisions. Amounts received prior to incurring qualifying expenditures are reported as deferred revenue in the statement of financial position. The organization received cost-reimbursable grants of $0 and $0 for the years ended June 30, 2022 and 2021, respectively that have not been recognized because qualifying expenses have not been incurred, with an advance payment of $0 and $0 recognized in the statement of financial position as deferred revenue.

Fees and services are generated from passing on the cost of shipping to its partner agencies. Fees and services are formed when the goods are received by the partner agencies, representing a single performance obligation at time of delivery.

Expenses are accrued in the accounting period in which the obligation arises.

Income from Operations

The Statements of Activities include Increase (decrease) in Net Assets Without Donor Restrictions from Cash Operating Activities as a measurement indicator. This figure measures the results of current period cash operating transactions only; donated goods and services, support restricted to future program expansion, and activities relating to capital funding and outlays are excluded from this intermediate measurement indicator.

Functional Allocation of Expenses

For the purposes of the Statement of Functional Expenses, expenses directly associated with Food Bank of Alaska's program, its administration or its fundraising activities are charged to the particular function. Allocable expenses benefiting all functions are allocated by management based on the benefits of the activities performed. Administrative expenses also include expenses that are not identifiable as either a program or fundraising expense, but which provide for the overall support and direction of Food Bank of Alaska.

Donated Assets, Services and Materials

Donations of goods are recognized as contributions at their estimated fair values when the donation is received. Donated services which satisfy the definitions of the Financial Accounting Standards Board, are recognized as contributions when the service is rendered. In addition to the donated services which are recognized as contributions, many other volunteers have contributed significant time in assisting FBA for which their donated service is not recognized because it does not meet the published criteria of the Financial Accounting Standards Board.

Estimates and Significant Estimate

Management uses estimates and assumptions in preparing financial statements. These estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, revenues and expenses and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. Actual results could differ from these estimates. The valuations of contributed food received and distributed, as well as ending valuation of food inventory are profoundly affected by an estimation process, generally applied by all food bank members of Feeding America.

6. INVESTMENTS

Food Bank of Alaska, Inc. maintains a Board-designated endowment, as well as non-endowed investments, with the Alaska Community Foundation. The foundation includes this investment as assets owned by the Foundation and is presented as a component fund in their financials. As defined by United States Treasury Regulations, the Foundation has the right to modify the terms of the fund agreement if in the judgment of the Foundation's Board of Trustees the restrictions and conditions of the agreement become unnecessary, incapable of fulfillment, or inconsistent with the charitable needs of the community. The authority to modify restrictions is sometimes referred to as "variance power" and is a legal standard imposed on all community foundations.

As a result of the variance power all component funds are considered to be a part of a single public charity, in this case the Alaska Community Foundation (ACF). Therefore, the Foundation is the single legal owner of all assets contributed to any of its component funds.

By direction of the Food Bank of Alaska's Board of Directors, this fund and its contributions as well as earnings is presently being preserved in order to accumulate enough resources so that it can generate a future, ongoing source of income for FBA. The underlying investments of this fund are a mix of fixed income securities and equities and are measured at their fair value in the accompanying financial statements.

FOOD BANK OF ALASKA, INC.

The Food Bank of Alaska's financial assets and liabilities valued on a recurring basis and carried at fair value have been classified, for disclosure purposes, based on a hierarchy defined by generally accepted accounting principles. The hierarchy gives the highest ranking to fair values determined using unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities (Level 1) and the lowest ranking to fair values determined using methods and models with unobservable inputs (Level 3). An asset's or a liability's classification is based on the lowest level input that is significant to its measurement. For example, a Level 3 fair value measurement may include inputs that are both observable (Levels 1 and 2) and (Level 3). The levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

- Level 1 – Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that we can access at the measurement date.
- Level 2 – Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. These include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability, and market-corroborated inputs.
- Level 3 – Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability. In these situations, we develop inputs using the best information available in the circumstances.

In some cases, the inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or a liability might be categorized within different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In those cases, the fair value measurement is categorized in its entirety in the same level of the fair value hierarchy as the lowest level input that is significant to the entire measurement. Assessing the significance of a particular input to entire measurement requires judgment, taking into account factors specific to the asset or liability. The categorization of an asset within the hierarchy is based upon the pricing transparency of the asset and does not necessarily correspond to our assessment of the quality, risk, or liquidity profile of the asset or liability.

COMPLIANCE REPORTS

Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting and on Compliance and Other Matters Based on an Audit of Financial Statements Performed in Accordance with Government Auditing Standards

Independent Auditor's Report

Members of the Board of Directors
Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.
Anchorage, Alaska

We have audited, in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the financial statements of the Food Bank of Alaska, Inc. (a non-profit organization), which comprise the Statement of financial position as of June 30, 2022, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements, and have issued our report thereon date November 15, 2022.

Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements, we considered Food Bank of Alaska's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Food Bank of Alaska Inc.'s internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of Food Bank of Alaska Inc.'s internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that have not been identified.

Members of the Board of Directors
Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.

Report on Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether Food Bank of Alaska Inc.'s financial statements are free from material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the financial statements. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Purpose of this Report

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the entity's internal control and compliance. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.

Report on Compliance for Each Major Federal Program; Report on Internal Control Over Compliance as Required by the Uniform Guidance

Independent Auditor's Report

Members of the Board of Directors
Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.
Anchorage, Alaska

Report on Compliance for Each Major Federal Program

Opinion on Each Major Federal Program

We have audited Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.'s compliance with the types of compliance requirements identified as subject to audit in the OMB Compliance Supplement that could have a direct and material effect on each of Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.'s major federal program for the year ended June 30, 2022. Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.'s major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying federal schedule of findings and questioned costs.

In our opinion, Food Bank of Alaska, Inc. complied, in all material respects, with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on each of its major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2022.

Basis for Opinion on Each Major Federal Program

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS); the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States (Government Auditing Standards); and the audit requirements of Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards (Uniform Guidance). Our responsibilities under those standards and the Uniform Guidance are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of Compliance section of our report.

We are required to be independent of Food Bank of Alaska, Inc. and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion on compliance for each major federal program. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.'s compliance with the compliance requirements referred to above.

Responsibilities of Management for Compliance

Management is responsible for compliance with the requirements referred to above and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, statutes, regulations, rules, and provisions of contracts or grant agreements applicable to Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.'s federal programs.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of Compliance

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether material noncompliance with the compliance requirements referred to above occurred, whether due to fraud or error, and express an opinion on Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.'s compliance based on our audit. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS, Government Auditing Standards, and the Uniform Guidance will always detect material noncompliance when it exists. The risk of not detecting material noncompliance resulting from fraud is higher than for that resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Noncompliance with the compliance requirements referred to above is considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, it would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user of the report on compliance about Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.'s compliance with the requirements of each major federal program as a whole.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, Government Auditing Standards, and the Uniform Guidance, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material noncompliance, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.'s compliance with the compliance requirements referred to above and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.
- Obtain an understanding of Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.'s internal control over compliance relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances and to test and report on internal control over compliance in accordance with the Uniform Guidance, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness Food Bank of Alaska, Inc.'s internal control over compliance. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and any significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in internal control over compliance that we identified during the audit.

Report on Internal Control over Compliance

A deficiency in internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control over compliance does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program on a timely basis. A material weakness in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance, such that there is a reasonable possibility that material noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program that is less severe than a material weakness in internal control over compliance, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control over compliance was for the limited purpose described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of Compliance section above and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over compliance that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies in internal control over compliance. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above. However, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies in internal control over compliance may exist that were not identified.

Our audit was not designed for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.

The purpose of this report on internal control over compliance is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over compliance and the results of that testing based on the requirements of the Uniform Guidance. Accordingly, this report is not suitable for any other purpose

Finding 2021-001

Lack of Internal Control over Accurate and Complete Records of USDA Foods

Conditions:

Internal controls requiring supporting documentation were lacking surrounding the distribution of USDA commodities and acceptance of USDA commodities between the Food Bank of Alaska and the recipient agency. There was a lack of documentation in verifying receipt of goods by a recipient agency. There was one distribution lacking internal controls in a sample of 25 inventory transactions tested and appears to be a systemic issue as a result of the repeat finding status from the prior year.

Status:

This finding was resolved in FY22.
